A big advance is expected in the price of tobacco.

The organization in West Virginia known as the "Red Men," is to be investigated by the Government. The order is said to have for its object the protection of illicit distillers.

The Secretary of War has directed an officer of the engineer corps to run the boundary line between Maryland and Virginia. The detail is made at the request of the Governors of both States.

The City Health Inspector of Chicago found at the Union Stock Yards in that city nine head of cattle infected with cancer and had them killed. Friday seven additional cattle were found similarly infected. The animals came from various parts of the country.

The Yeoman says there is not a word truth in the report that the Kentucky Military Institute, near Frankfort, had disbanded on account of sickness among the cadets. There was one death at the Institute, but there is not now and has not been another case of sickness at or near the place.

DEFECTIVE teeth in young persons are said to be a leading cause of defective hearing, which good authority says is more general now than formerly. Children thus affected appear to be stupid and in subsequent years really are so, for they do not hear sounds distinctly and consequently cannot correctly imitate them. From the number of people seen wearing glasses, it is very evident that defective vision is much more common than formerly. Children of tender age are constantly encountered who are thus obliged to aid their vision.

PROHIBITION has made its way steadily and rapidly in Georgia. Ten years ago it had but little hold. Now the sale of liquor is prohibited in the whole or part of seventy-one counties, leaving less than half the counties in the State in which its rule is unrestrained. The Legislature just dissolved has made nine of these counties non-liquor counties by enactment, and provided for elections in thirty odd more. It also passed a bill making it a crime to sell liquor to a confirmed drunkard or drunk person, after notice not to sell has been served by one of his relatives. Under local option prohibition has shown unusual strength. It has been beaten notably in only two counties. Its friends contend that five more years will see the six large cities of Georgia, the sole strongholds of liquor, environed closely with prohibition suburbs.

The Lexington Transcript says: Ellis Craft is to be hanged at Grayson, Carter county, next Friday. It has been decided to build a new gallows in preference to getting the Ike Turner gallows from Lexington. It will be a drop gallows with a five-foot fall erected on the same plan as the Ike Turner gallows. A rope has been ordered from Vonderheide, of the regulation size. The gallows will be erected in the camp-ground occupied by the militia when in Grayson to attend Craft's trial. A broad enclosure, fifteen feet high, and large enough to admit about 300 people will be erected around the gallows. This will be made reasonably strong, but as it is in the open ground, and has no support, it will not stand three minutes when the ten thousand people who want to see the hanging get into position. Indeed, it is suggested that the enclosure will be torn down hours before the time of the execution, in which case there will be a public hanging.

Mr. John Hogan passed through Lexington, on his way to Frankfort, bearing a numerous signed protest against any interference with Craft's sentence on the part of the Governor.

Honorably Discharged.

The Courier-Journal of the 4th says: In January last, Mr. Wm. Houston, of Lexington, who for several years had been a very efficient agent of the National Mutual Benefit Life Association of this city, having doubts as to the status and future of that company, resigned his position and became agent of another company. An officer of the National Mutual Benefit Company then had an indictment found against Mr. Houston for alleged embezzlement some two or three years previous. Yesterday the case came to trial before the Circuit Court, when it was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney, who stated that he was satisfied that the proceeding could not be sustained and that there was no foundation for it. He remarked that his information came from the officers of the Insurance Company. Judge Jackson at once ordered the indictment to be dismissed. Mr. Houston is one of the best known and most popular business men in the State, and this honorable acquittal and prompt and full vindication from a vindictive assault will be gratifying to his many friends.
